Oatmeal Peanut Butter Cookies

original recipe makes 2 dozen

3/4 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup quick cooking oats
3 tablespoons butter, softened

In a large bowl, cream together 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup peanut butter, white sugar, brown sugar, and vanilla. Add egg and beat well. In another bowl, combine the flour, baking soda, baking powder, and salt. Add these dry ingredients to the creamed mixture. Stir. Add oatmeal and stir. Drop by teaspoons onto greased baking sheet, and press each mound down with a fork to form 1/4 inch thick cookies. Bake at 350 degrees F for 10 minutes, or until cookies are a light brown. To Make Filling: Cream 3 tablespoons butter or margarine with the confectioners' sugar, 1/2 cup smooth peanut butter, and the cream. 1/2 teaspoon dried oregano
2 ounces sliced pepperoni, divided
1 (8 oz) package shredded Italian cheese blend
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease a 9x13-inch baking dish. Bring a large pot of lightly salted water to a boil. Cook spaghetti in the boiling water, stirring occasionally, until cooked through but firm to the bite, about 12 minutes. Drain water and transfer spaghetti to the prepared baking dish. Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat. Cook and stir beef in the hot skillet until browned and crumbly, 5 to 7 minutes; drain and discard grease. Whisk milk and egg together in a bowl; pour over spaghetti. Add pasta sauce, diced tomatoes, garlic powder, and oregano to spaghetti and mix well. Spread ground beef over spaghetti mixture and top with 1/2 of the pepperoni. Sprinkle Italian cheese blend over pepperoni and top with the remaining pepperoni and Parmesan cheese. Bake in the preheated oven until cheese is browned and bubbling, about 30 minutes.

Steak Bites with Blue Cheese Sauce

original recipe makes 8 servings

1 1/2 pounds beef top sirloin, trimmed and cut into bite-size pieces
2 tablespoons blackened seasoning (such as Chef Paul Prudhomme's Blackened Steak Magic), or more to taste
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
Blue Cheese Sauce:
1 (3 oz) package cream cheese
3 tablespoons evaporated milk
8 ounces blue cheese crumbles
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper

Season sirloin with blackened seasoning to coat on all sides. Heat oil in a cast-iron skillet on an outdoor grill until the oil is smoking. Cook steak bites in hot oil in small batches, reheating oil between batches, until slightly crusty, 1 to 2 minutes per side. Stir cream cheese and evaporated milk together in a saucepan over low heat to melt the cream cheese. Whisk blue cheese crumbles, garlic powder, white pepper, and cayenne pepper into the cream cheese mixture; simmer, stirring frequently, until the blue cheese melts into a smooth sauce, 2 to 3 minutes. Serve blue cheese sauce with the beef bites.

Your Weekly Love Horoscope

Aries
March 21-April 19

Your coworkers may be standoffish today because you're giving off the impression that you don't want to be disturbed. It's true: you're not in the mood for horsing around because you're trying to get serious about your work. However, your no-nonsense attitude is really an avoidance strategy as wounded Chiron and vulnerable Venus sing a lament in your 12th House of Escapism. It isn't wise to succumb to their sad siren song by suppressing your feelings; instead, allocate a time and space to address them compassionately. You can't change what you refuse to confront.

Taurus
April 20-May 20

You're trying to collect as many constants as you can so the variables aren't as tricky to handle. Surrounding yourself with the facts helps you feel more comfortable in your own skin. You can usually count on your friends for support, but you prefer to depend on yourself today. Unfortunately, being in the midst of a group reminds you of past friendships that may have ended badly or communities you left behind. In reality, rounding up your squad for an intimate get together to share your experiences may be just the bonding experience you need to help you release old paradigms.

Gemini
May 21-June 20

Others may wonder what's wrong today as you're not quite acting like your usual chipper self. The truth is you're uninterested in small talk because you're preoccupied with processing complicated emotions while the solemn Capricorn Moon transits your 8th House of Transformation. Additionally, the poignant Chiron-Venus pairing calls to mind a time when your reputation was damaged, and it feels just as real now as it did when it happened. The good news is that talking about your feelings will expedite the healing process. Thomas Jefferson said, "Honesty is the first chapter in the book of wisdom."

Cancer
June 21-July 22

Your melancholy is hidden under the surface of the tough exterior shell you created to keep it inside. However, the people who know you best are likely to notice that something is bothering you anyway. You may be stuck remembering a time when your biggest dream fell flat, and it's difficult to stop your heart from replaying the painful feelings of disappointment. However, with a little bit of conscious effort you can see this bygone experience in a new light. It is but one thread in a tapestry whose beauty is amplified by the contrast of light and dark.

Leo
July 23-August 22

Getting enough rest should be top priority now, whether or not external circumstances are physically demanding, since your immune system needs support. Healer Chiron and vulnerable Venus conspire in your 8th House of Intimacy and your heart pangs in remembrance of an emotional debt that was never repaid. However, being too tired to worry is actually a blessing today as lower physical energy can motivate you to mellow out and let things go. Every time you subtract negative from your life, you make room for more positive.

Virgo
August 23-September 22

Your manner is calculated and controlled today as rigidity feels safer than allowing the chips to fall where they may. You're afraid your heart might do the talking, and it has plenty to say about an old flame that's haunting your thoughts now. Instead of dwelling on the past, try to realize that it's not your job to fix lost souls. Although forgiving the person who has hurt you is an important piece of the puzzle, it's even more crucial to forgive yourself.

Libra
September 23-October 22

Your people skills are one of your best assets and it's gratifying to put them to good use. Although creating harmony and mediating compromise can seem like a full-time job, it's easy to see the beauty in conflict resolution. However, sometimes diplomacy doesn't always do the trick, and you may remember a time when you tried your best to serve the greater good and it was all for naught. Instead of feeling remorseful about the past failure, view it as a learning experience that can positively influence your future endeavors.

Scorpio
October 23-November 21

Keeping busy with menial tasks is surprisingly satisfying today. It's as if you're able to deflect the artfulness of the mundane in every curve and angle. Although you're often seen as the brooding type, you actually possess a knack for transmuting negative feelings into imaginative art. In fact, things in your immediate environment might trigger recollections of a time when you shared something you were proud of and it wasn't favorably accepted. This creative wound could cause you to retreat in defense of your heart. Luckily, tapping into the energy of the memory inspires you to create something new if you're willing to examine your pain in a different light.

Sagittarius
November 22-December 21

What you thought was ancient history is brought back to full-blown awareness today. Loving Venus encounters sensitive Chiron in your 4th House of Family, dredging up childhood memories that may not be so happy. The past might be hard to face, but favorable aspects from the patient Capricorn Moon can help you see the value in these difficult experiences. Henna Sohail wrote, "The moment you learn the lesson, the test will be over."

Capricorn
December 22-January 19

No matter how many times you turn over a problem in your mind, you can't seem to find an answer that satisfies everyone. The reason is that sometimes there is no solution; accepting a situation exactly as it is can be the best way to make peace with it. The cosmos is offering you an opportunity to practice this process as a sentimental Venus-Chiron connection recalls an image of the past frozen in time. There's not much to do but observe how this makes you feel now, and move forward with the knowledge that this experience is expanding your perspective. When you seek it, you can't find it; when you stop looking, it finds you.

Aquarius
January 20-February 18

The silent spaces in between activities seem to stretch out, allowing you to reflect on a time when you had less than you do now. Perhaps you went for a stretch with few material comforts or spent time on your own with little emotional support. These recollections may be uncomfortable because you also remember them so vividly, but they also serve as landmarks that indicate how far you've come on your journey. Past and present placed side by side fosters a sense of gratitude like nothing else can.

Pisces
February 19-March 20

It feels as if you've been transported back in time because everything reminds you of an earlier version of yourself. Although you may have shed your skin many times in this life, some new phases began out of necessity when chapters had to come to an end rather painfully. Keep in mind that there's a fine line between meditating on the past and throwing a pity party. Choosing a proactive way of processing memories like creating a scrapbook or writing a song empowers you to relive the past while also being able to close the book on it.

In-Kind Distributions from IRAs

Provided by Beverly Neighbors and Bill Wilson

This may surprise you: you can take an IRA distribution in a form other than cash. This may seem unorthodox, but it can make financial sense for some older IRA owners as well as IRA heirs.

An in-kind distribution from a traditional IRA is fully taxable, just as a cash distribution from a traditional IRA becomes taxable income. Just how is the cash value of the in-kind withdrawal determined? The fair market value of the asset is reported to the IRS as a step in the distribution.<sup>1,2</sup>

Why would you want to make this type of IRA withdrawal?

In certain cases, it may be preferable to withdrawing cash, especially when it comes to Required Minimum Distributions (RMDs) for traditional IRAs.

Maybe you want to keep shares instead of selling them.

There are times when you may be reluctant to sell some or all of an investment to satisfy an RMD, because the investment is really performing well. An in-kind withdrawal is an alternative. The amount of the distribution will be full in-kind withdrawal to satisfy the RMD requirement. You will still retain ownership of the asset(s) distributed in-kind.<sup>2</sup>

Maybe you see a loser turning into a winner. You hold a poorly performing investment in your IRA, but you sense it will turn around, you suspect its value will soon rise. Rather than liquidate it, shares of it could be withdrawn from the IRA as an in-kind distribution. They will be taxed at their current value when distributed from the IRA as in-kind distributions are treated like taxable income, but in future years, they will only be subject to capital gains tax rates rather than (higher) income tax rates.<sup>4</sup>

If an IRA holds an investment that has so little worth that it seems pointless to have the IRA in the first place, an in-kind distribution may offer a solution.

treated just like taxable income, but you will still own that asset once it is outside of the IRA. Those shares now have a chance to appreciate further, and you can also elect to donate them to charity.<sup>2,3</sup>

Maybe you have a cashless IRA. If 0% of your IRA assets are sitting in cash, then one option is to take either a partial or

Maybe the IRA has little value. Some "stray" IRAs are not worth very much. If an IRA holds an investment that has so little worth that it seems pointless to have the IRA in the first place, an in-kind distribution may offer a solution. If you own a traditional (or Roth) IRA and make this move before age 59½, you are likely looking at an early-withdrawal penalty as well as taxes. Even so, you may prefer that to keeping up the IRA for years, or carrying a loser investment in the IRA for any number of years while paying attached account fees.<sup>2</sup>

In-kind IRA distributions can be tricky, as they often involve shares. Share prices fluctuate, and if you are trying to precisely meet your RMD amount with a distribution of shares, there is the risk of coming up short or long. If you come up short, you will need another transaction to satisfy the RMD. If you come out long, that could increase the income tax attached to the RMD. This is the risk you take.<sup>5</sup>

There is nothing more important than our good health. It can't be bought, yet it is our most important asset. Protecting that asset is as simple as a little prevention. Henry County Medical Center is making that simple step of prevention

More than 200,000 new cases of lung cancer are diagnosed each year in the United States. The prognosis is poor for patients whose cancer is detected in its advanced stages. The American Cancer Society states that lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death among both men and women.

Of the top four deadliest cancers in the U.S. (lung, prostate, breast and colorectal), lung cancer is the only one not subject to routine screening. Based on the findings of the National Lung Screening Trial (NLST), we now have confirmation that low dose CT lung screening can save lives of people at high risk for developing lung cancer.

This groundbreaking research offers new hope for the early detection and effective treatment of lung cancer, the leading cause of cancer death in the United States. Physician or self-referral, low dose CT lung cancer screening should be considered an option for the asymptomatic individuals considered at high risk for lung cancer.

One of the keys to more successful treatment of lung cancer is the early detection of the disease. Often, lung cancer is detected in its later stages, when it has compromised the function of one or more vital organs and has spread throughout the body. There are many types of lung cancer.

Each type of lung cancer grows and spreads in different ways and is treated differently. The purpose of this low dose CT lung cancer screening is to detect and diagnose and underlying medical condition that you may have at an early stage and to improve the treatment effectiveness and options. The images will be reviewed for the presence of lung nodules, masses, or other abnormalities suspicious for lung cancer as well as other findings of potential clinical importance.

Risk factor for Lung Cancer include:

- Smoking
- Exposure to secondhand smoke
- Family History
- Excessive Alcohol use
- Exposure to radon gas, asbestos and other chemicals

The screening is performed at the HCMC Diagnostic Center. You are asked to lie very still on a CT table, which is slowly moving horizontally through a chamber capturing images of your lungs. A computer workstation combines these pictures into very detailed cross-sectional images. These images are interpreted by Board Certified Radiologists with years of practical experience. The procedure takes approximately 15 minutes and there is no prep required.

"Our goal is to get more people screened and make the screening more accessible to our community," said Billie McKee, Director of Imaging at HCMC. "With this screening we can help people either find some peace of mind or find early treatment."

The screening is available for $275 to those who meet these criteria:

- Current or former heavy smokers
- 55 to 80 years old
- Less than 15 years since quitting smoking

The cost is currently not covered by insurance or Medicare, so making the screening affordable was a goal for HCMC. The low dose CT lung screening as well as CT Cardiac Calcium Scoring and Ultrasound Screenings can all be scheduled without a physician referral by calling Centralized Scheduling at 731-644-8486 option 1. Ask about package discounts if multiple tests are being done. And, you can learn more about these tests at our Every Beat Counts Heart Health Fair on Tuesday, February 21 from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Sidebar:

Ultrasound Vascular Screening and CT Cardiac Calcium Scoring Screenings Committed to ensuring you don't become a statistic, HCMC

WHEN DO YOU NEED A FINANCIAL ADVISOR?

Are you a "do-it-yourselfer"? If you can take care of home repairs, lawn work and other types of maintenance by yourself, you'll save money and probably gain satisfaction. But you will almost certainly need some help in other areas of your life, one of which may be investing. In fact, you could benefit from the services of a professional financial advisor at several points in your life:

WHEN YOU'RE STARTING OUT IN YOUR CAREER

When you land your first career-type job, you will have some financial decisions to make: Should I participate in my employer's 401(k) or other retirement plan? (Hint: Yes!) If so, how much should I contribute? How can I juggle saving for retirement with paying off student loans? These are the types of questions you can answer with the help of a financial advisor.

WHEN YOU'RE SAVING FOR IMPORTANT GOALS

Whether you're saving for a down payment on your first home, or for your children's college education, or for your own comfortable retirement, you'll face many choices. A financial advisor's someone with experience in helping people work toward these goals and can assist you in making the choices most appropriate for your individual situation.

WHEN YOU'RE EXPERIENCING A PERSONAL MILESTONE

Like everyone, you'll go through many major life events. Some will be joyful, such as marriage and the arrival of children, while others may be unpleasant or sad, such as divorce or the death of a loved one. But virtually all these events carry with them some type of financial component from establishing new investment accounts, purchasing sufficient insurance, naming and changing of beneficiaries, and so on. A financial adviadvisor who truly understands you and your needs can help you make appropriate moves for all your milestones.

WHEN YOU'RE CLOSE TO RETIREMENT

As you near retirement, you'll have several issues to consider: About how much income will you need each year? When should you start taking Social Security? How much can you afford to withdraw annually from your IRA and 401(k)? A financial advisor has the tools, training and experience to explore alternatives and suggest suitable moves for you.

WHEN YOU'RE RETIRED

Even after you retire, you've got plenty to think about, in terms of financial moves. For one thing, you need to ensure that your investment portfolio provides you with both sufficient income for your desired lifestyle and adequate growth potential to help you stay ahead of inflation. What's the correct balance of investments for your needs? Are there investments that can provide you with rising income without exposing you to undue risk? Once you're retired, you just won't get a lot of "do-overs" so getting the right help is important.

If you're a do-it-yourselfer, you may not get it right each and every time. But you won't pay much of a price (except, perhaps in embarrassment) if that chair you built collapses under a stack of newspapers. However, you also know when it's time to call in a professional and that's whom you need when it comes to building your financial future. So, get the assistance you need, when you need it, from a financial advisor.

- Medical Health & Fitness - What is Health Insurance?

Health Insurance is a type of insurance coverage that covers the cost of an insured individual's medical and surgical expenses as a result of illness or injury. There are various types of health insurance coverage available on the market, either the insured pays costs out-of-pocket and is then reimbursed, or the insurer makes payments directly to the provider.

The “provider” is a hospital, clinic, physician, laboratory, pharmacy, or health care practitioner.

The “insured” is the owner of the health policy. In countries without universal health care coverage, such as the USA, health insurance is often included in employer benefit packages. In other countries, like the United Kingdom or Canada, health such as elderly, disabled people, and veterans. The Obama Administration has introduced laws making it mandatory for everybody to have health coverage with penalties imposed for those who fail to carry health coverage.

Everyone at some time in their life will need some kind of medical treatment. When treatment is required, the patient should be able to concentrate on getting better, rather than worrying how they will pay the bill. We as a nation are recognizing this view as becoming more common in other developed nations.

The Affordable Care Act made it possible for young adults between 19 and 25 to stay on their parents' health plans. It is reported that 13.7 million young adults remained on their parents' health plans; this included 6.6 million people who care is provided by the state and viewed as every citizen's right. These countries consider this the same as public education, police and fire protection, public works, road/highway maintenance, as a part of a public service for the nation. In the USA, health insurance coverage is viewed differently with the exception of some groups, would not have been able to do so if the Act had not been signed.

There are two types of health coverage provided. Private and public, with 58% of Americans covered under some type of rier you choose and verify that your providers are in the company's network. Remember, not all health insurance is the same.

With the upcoming changes in political administration, it's not clear the direction of our health care system. In the meantime, regulations remain in place regarding health coverage for every United States citizen.

private health care coverage. Examples of public health coverage in the USA is Medicare, which is a national federal social insurance program for people aged 65+ years as well as disabled people, and Medicaid, which is funded jointly by the federal government and individual states. There are different types of health plans available, such as HMO's (health maintenance organizations), PPO's (preferred provider organizations), HSA's (health savings that has rules which stipulate how much the plan will pay for. Indemnity Plans allow the insured to choose any physician they choose and will incur an out-of-pocket expense or coinsurance. PPO providers provide the care for the insured within the PPO network. The insured makes the copayment and may also be liable for coinsurance. If the insured chooses services from a non-network provider, some medical expenses will be paid but plans are usually offered thru their employer.

Which plan you choose is based on your ability to pay premiums and out-of-pocket expenses and should be carefully reviewed before purchase. Your health insurance agent can help determine the best plan for you or your family's needs. Ask about the premiums, copayments, deductibles, coinsurance, and out-of-pocket costs.
