Bioblitz Rescheduled The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service had recently announced teaming up with the Tennessee Valley Authority and Discover Life in America to host a BioBlitz at the Big Sandy Unit of the Tennessee National Wildlife Refuge (NWR) in north-central Tennessee on May 16th. Due to concerns about the Corona virus, this free event open to the public will reschedule for September 12, 2020. A BioBlitz is a short, intense team effort to survey as many different types of organisms as possible in one location, including plants, insects and other animals, fungi, and more. Species are easily identified and recorded using an app called iNaturalist on any mobile device. The public is invited to conduct this survey along with experts in the field. However, it doesn't take a team to use this innovative new program. Any interested participant can practice now in the backyard by going to the website at <https://www.inaturalist.org/> or downloading the app on your mobile device. Create an account and you can start to identify anything in nature and record its location. It is a great activity to explore during this time of social distancing. Interested participants can register at dlia.org/bioblitz-tnwr and should install and set up iNaturalist (a citizen science app) on their mobile device. As a preparation for the event, a special evening nocturnal event will be held on Friday September 11th from 5:30 – 9:30 pm by the Friends of Tennessee NWR just for Friends members, refuge volunteers and staff families. To become a Friends member is cheap and easy, just see friendstnwr.org. For more information about the fall Bioblitz, contact the Tennessee National Wildlife Refuge at 731-642-2091 or email Joan_Howe@fws.gov.

DPA Events Rescheduled With the announcement of the cancellation of the World's Biggest Fish Fry, the Downtown Paris Association has also cancelled the Bill Williams Catfish races and the Chalk Crawl for Kids scheduled for Saturday, April 25th of Fish Fry Week. In an effort to maintain the safety of our community, the DPA has also rescheduled the first Downtown Cruise In. It will be the fourth Tuesday in May on May 26th featuring Rockin' Randall French. The "April in Paris" event is usually the first weekend in April and features a Spring Open House at our downtown stores. Exercising an abundance of caution due to the COVID19 virus, we are postponing the April in Paris event and will announce "An Evening in Paris" event at a later date. Stay tuned because it is going to be fun!
