Your Weekly Love Horoscope

Aries	Taurus	Gemini	Cancer	Leo	Virgo
March 21-April 19	April 20-May 20	May 21-June 20	June 21-July 22	July 23-August 22	August 23-September 22
It's not easy to be refused when you want or even need something badly. The prickly square between the pushy Aries Moon and stodgy Saturn likely mirrors your own frustration. If your boss has put the kibosh on a proposal, for example, think more about it from his or her perspective before you wallow in your own feelings about it. It's possible that there are clear ways you can improve your work. There's a similar message for rebuffs you receive from lovers or other dear ones. Rejection is also an opportunity for personal growth.	An unfortunate situation is testing your faith in something you've always taken for granted. However, you might not trust your judgment or your own abilities now, if you keep your beliefs too close to earth. Regardless of the object of your lost faith, you can rebuild it by first reclaiming your patience. Everything works out if you give it time. Be grateful for the potential in the midst of uncertainty; you'll see progress soon enough when you accept responsibility for creating your future. Don't struggle to climb out the window when the door is already open.	You may be an emotional anchor for others who can't see the sea of possibilities that you do. Perhaps someone feels so overwhelmed that they need more than just a little pep talk today. Although you might not have all the answers, discussing concrete steps that will move talks toward their goals nudges them in the right direction. Fortunately, you possess enough curiosity and imagination to spark the insightful questions that will eventually lead to sustainable solutions. Be the friend you want to have, and watch the people around you bloom with confidence.	Although you might feel isolated today, your sense of separation is of your own making. The good news is you can choose to unmake it. Maybe you slipped and let the Aries Moon's pride get the best of you. But you also could allow the Moon's courage to inspire you to reach out for connection, even if it's to someone from whom you've been estranged. Warm and fuzzy emotions may be missing at first, but you can bridge what's kept you apart with patience and a resolute focus on the present. Speaking candidly and from the heart inspires others to do the same.	It's quite possible you underestimate your work or overestimate your abilities today. The phrase, "Easier said than done," might seem all too true for tasks you thought would be a walk in the park. However, it's more likely that even if you perfectly surmised what it would take to get things done, it still would be a test of your grit and stamina. Sometimes you must let the fire in your heart keep your hands warm while you do the cold, hard work ahead of you. There's no other way around it. It's best to get on with your day with as much cheer as you can muster. Perseverance defines character.	You could be so concerned about what you stand to lose that you miss out on taking a reasonable risk today. However, you don't necessarily have to gamble the farm to invest in something that you already know will improve your life. Moderation is key. If you've done your research on an item before Mercury began its retrograde a few days ago, then there's a good chance that you might score a good deal now. Too much hesitation and doubt will trap you in a paralysis of analysis. Act sooner than later for the best results.

Libra	Scorpio	Sagittarius	Capricorn	Aquarius	Pisces
September 23-October 22	October 23-November 21	November 22-December 21	December 22-January 19	January 20-February 18	February 19-March 20
An authority figure or someone you respect could jeopardize your esteem for them. Perhaps they overstep a boundary or speak unkindly, and you can't quite decide how to address it. The current testy Aries Moon might make it seem that an angry confrontation is the best retort, but it's not. However, the defiance that keeps you in line is not the regard you have for the other person; it's your own disciplined self-respect. It's prudent to take time to figure out how to handle a thorny transgression with decorum and clarity. Fools rush in where angels fear to tread.	You're likely overthinking a process that's simpler than you're making it now, because you believe that anything worthwhile must be difficult. However, this is only partially true. There are plenty of bad habits that were hard to learn at first, yet your mind and body adjusted. The real challenge is the work of unlearning something. This transformation requires more of a mindset committed to growing rather than thinking you should just overcome an obstacle and move on. Stop trying so hard when you already have the answer within.	You are perfectly content to enjoy your own company today because the fonder Aries Moon is ideal for a party of one. But you still feel like you must be on the move, even if it's a slower and gentler pace. Thankfully, you don't have to rush making connections. Think of your self-satisfaction and comfort with your own peculiarities as an exclusive event only for those who seek you out. As you grant access to others who invite themselves into your realm, you'll find yourself happily opening up to them.	You might require some quiet time to figure out the source of any miscontent or malaise. Fortunately, your negativity won't last that long nor will it run that deep. There's also a good chance that your uneasiness has a practical solution. The action-oriented Aries Moon won't allow you to settle for less. An adjustment to your sleeping arrangements or your eating schedule could help to calm your nerves. Denial won't serve you well; your day will continue to improve if you consciously attend to your basic needs. There's no point in trying to pour from an empty cup.	Your threshold for trivial conversation or gossip will likely be very low today, even if you normally enjoy it. You want to connect with people on a deeper level and know they mean what they say. In other words, you expect others to match your sense of integrity. Examine your own level of patience for sincere emotional vulnerability before you judge anyone else. Perhaps there's no question that you're brave enough to be open but stepping out in full view of another isn't easy. Be gentle with others when they want to talk about everything except what truly burns in their hearts.	You want to strengthen the fabric of your social circle now, because you fear its weakening due to recent neglect. You might have reason to be concerned about a friend today. Follow your intuition and make plans to spend some quality time together. Be insistent without twisting anyone's arm to share their story. Maybe you're also stirred to reconnect with others as a step toward helping and looking more into your wider community. Ideally, you could enlist friends for a charitable project, as well. It's up to you to get the ball rolling now and watch who joins in the game.

(Paris, TN) Santa along with Mrs. Claus, Rudolph, Christmas Mouse and the elves roll into downtown Paris on the big, red fire engine November 23rd, Friday morning at 10:00 am, the day after Thanksgiving kicking off North Pole Family Fun Day, an annual event sponsored by the Downtown Paris Association (DPA). With more than a dozen free activities for busy little hands, the fun lasts from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. in West Tennessee's festive downtown shopping hub.

"I can't wait to see all of the good little boys and girls in Henry County," said Santa in an exclusive satellite interview from the North Pole. "Rudolph, the elves and I love our gingerbread house on the Court Square. We'll be visiting with the youngsters each Saturday and until noon. Every half hour (10:30, 11:00, 11:30, 12:00, 12:30, 1:00, 1:30), members of the HCHS Speech Team will read The Polar Express at the beautifully decorated Old Depot on Fentress Street, now Vicky Muzzall's Tax Service. "Miss Vicky even gives away free train whistles to all of the youngsters," said Santa.

"There's trackless train rides for adults and children, a petting zoo, and other games on the courthouse lawn, all courtesy of the Downtown Paris Association. New to the lawn is a photo opportunity with my Sleigh for family photos as well as Frosty the Snowman! Bring your camera for pictures with the family that say Merry Christmas from Paris, Tennessee!" said Santa.

Candlelight Advent Walk Heralds the Season

(Paris, TN) The Candlelight Advent Walk ushers in the Christmas season Wednesday evening, November 28h from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Worshipers will hear the message of Advent in beautifully decorated churches while proceeding by family friendly candlelight through the historic downtown area.

“This is a very unique way to usher in the Advent Season,” said First United Methodist Church Pastor, Joe Hansen, who chairs the 2018 Advent Walk Committee. “This year we are focusing on A Micah 6:8 Christmas...Do Justice, Love Mercy, and Walk Humbly.” With three stops during the walk, the Advent Walk program will conclude by 7:30 p.m. Participating downtown churches and the Downtown Paris Association sponsor the annual event. According to the DPA Executive Director, Kathy Ray, “It’s a great opportunity to worship with other churches, enjoy their meaningful decorations of the season and stroll through our charming Victorian town square while visiting with our friends and neighbors.”

The service begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Main Entrance of the Henry County Courthouse on Washington Street with family friendly candles provided by the Downtown Paris Association.

Worshippers will be welcomed by Pastor Joe Hansen and Dr. Trent Bullock at the Courthouse. We will proceed to First Presbyterian Church and hear from Rev. Carol Wade, interim pastor. Then on to First Christian Church to hear a message from Rev.

Cory Glover and Dr. John Danbridge. We will then proceed to the First United Methodist Church Christian Life Center for refreshments. For more information on Christmas events downtown, log on www.VisitDowntownParis.com.

W.G. Rhea Elementary is Featured School at Holly Jolly Electric Christmas Parade

(Paris, TN) W.G. Rhea Elementary School has been selected as the featured school of the 12th Annual Holly Jolly Electric Christmas Parade, and they are bringing plenty of Christmas smiles, courtesy of their K-2 student body. The parade is scheduled for Saturday, December 8 at 5:00 pm, immediately following the Downtown Christmas Festival.

“When I say our students are bringing Christmas smiles, some of them will be bringing those terrific, ‘All I want for Christmas is my Two Front Teeth’ kind of smiles,” said Principal Chris Hudgins of his five to eight-year-old student body. This is a great age for children to begin participating in community events such as the Holly Jolly Electric Christmas Parade and we will be bringing our ‘A’ game to the parade.

“Because our students are so young, this will be the first parade many of them have ever attended, so we want it to be a stand-out event for them,” said Assistant Principal Lynda Searcy. “Mama Claus visited them earlier in the school year to tell them that Rhea had been chosen as the featured school and they were so thrilled.”

W. G. Rhea Elementary was founded in 1968 as a K-5 school.

Mama Claus recently stopped by the kindergarten class of Mrs. Belinda Davis to tell her students that W.G. Rhea had been chosen as the 1th Annual Holly Jolly Electric Christmas Parade Featured School.

In 1989, the Paris Special School District (PSSD) clustered into like grades and Rhea became the K-1 school. In 1995, an addition was built on for the second grade, and a pre-school wing was added on in 2008.

In the last decade, the school has embarked on a three-phase construction project that culminated this year with new traffic lanes, a new wing to house first and second grade classes, a new office area, and a new reading center, according to Hudgins.

We have highly qualified teachers for the school’s approximately 500 students. Rhea has four preschool, 10 kindergarten, nine first grade, and nine second grade classes plus a Comprehensive Development Class to meet the needs of special learners,” said Hudgins. Class sizes range from 16 to 18 students per class.

Asked what types of festive entries the school would have in the parade,” Marketing Director Becky Cate said that she’s “not allowed to divulge highly sensitive, classified Christmas parade information,” but that parade goes need to be “ready to rock with our enthusiastic children and our fantastic faculty and staff.”

The mission of the Downtown Paris Association is to promote prosperous business activity and community involvement while encouraging preservation of the downtown Paris, TN area. For more information email DowntownParis@outlook.com or call 731-653-7274 (PARIS).

be candy and other Christmas goodies.”

The contest is divided into two age groups with a coloring page for kindergarten-second graders and a different page for third-fifth graders. Coloring sheets should be returned to the locations above before 5:00 pm on Saturday, December 8, the day of the Downtown Christmas Festival and Holly, Jolly, Electric Christmas Parade. Winners will be contacted by the DPA the following week.

Artist Ansley Cate’s sketches were chosen from a number of designs submitted by HCHS art students. A high school senior, Cate said that as a child, she “always did lots of activities related to Christmas, including coloring pictures and making crafts. I love knowing that I’m playing a part in getting local children into the Christmas spirit.”

“I’m proud of Ansley, whose sketches were chosen for both age groups,” said HCHS Art Instructor Greg Chandler. “A large number of students participated in this project, which was a great learning experience for them. Partnering with the DPA and giving back to our community is a treat,” he said.

Many of these pieces of art will find a home at K&B following the judging. “We plan to post as many pages from our young artists as possible for Santa to enjoy while he is in Downtown Paris on weekends,” said Evans.

For more information on the contest call Evans at 731-540-1222 or the DPA Office at 731-653-7274.
