| The waters of doubt can corrode even the strongest of iron wills. You may feel like life's flow is carrying you away from your long-term goals today as Saturn the Tester issues a harsh reminder of the distance between you and your ultimate destination. You instinctively fight the current with all your might, but the smarter option is to tread water until you're out of the emotional rapids. Hold back your desire to impulsively make a change; waiting until your strength returns ensures your success. | The shadow of uncertainty darkens your doorstep, causing you to question recent choices. You start to wonder if you've fallen prey to a mirage even if your social life has recently been a source of support and inspiration. However, your concerns may be the real illusion today when the Sun's square to suppressive Saturn in your 8th House of Intimacy projects a fear of rejection into your world. Seeking a resolution to your dilemma will only lead you in circles now. Martin Luther King, Jr. said, "Faith is taking the first step even when you don't see the whole staircase." | The weight of someone else's expectations could feel like they're too much for your shoulders to bear today. You may have been trying to emulate an individual you admire in order to advance on the professional front, but you know what they say: never meet your heroes. Although a good role model can serve as inspiration, a series of pages taken from another person's book does not a novel make. Incorporate your own intuitive observations into your plan for success. | You may be stretched to your emotional limits and it appears like nothing short of a miracle can bail you out. But an extreme reaction today will seem more proportional in the near future. It could feel like your daily efforts will never be enough to deliver you to the heights you dream of as you see how your habits are impacting your grand plan. Although you are a summation of what you do each day, you are not your shortcomings; resigning to shame would be a waste. There will be time to readjust your routine later, but for now accept your changing moods and be gentle with yourself. | Your quest to find yourself takes you many places, but you may have lost your way today. Perhaps you wandered off and ended up in someone else's brambly forest, leaving you wondering how you landed in this mess. But before you launch an emergency flare, calm down and review your journey. Mentally retracing your steps will be easier in the coming days, so use this time to sink into your feelings. You must regain your bearings before changing direction; you're probably closer to your path than you think. Wait until the light returns before you make a move. | Your tendency to over-analyze lends a sense of urgency to everything today, making it imperative to discipline your mind from the start. Allies start to look like enemies if you stare for too long; you could feel like you must retreat to your fortress and change your battle plan completely. However, input from other people may strengthen your position, whether by challenging you with a new perspective or offering assistance for the next phase of execution. Whatever you do, don't set fire to your master plan just to thwart resistance, imagined or real. Fear ends where faith begins. |
|  Libra September 23-October 22 |  Scorpio October 23-November 21 |  Sagittarius November 22-December 21 |  Capricorn December 22-January 19 |  Aquarius January 20-February 18 |  Pisces February 19-March 20 |
| The power of planning can be a blessing or a curse depending on how you use it. Unfortunately, merging your daily schedule with bigger objectives seems impossible and you could feel overworked and under-rewarded today. However, it's difficult to see past what's right in front of you now, and determining the best time-management strategy is likely to go poorly. Your efforts might not produce the output expected, but more time is required to know if that's really the case. Hold your ground; you may not need to scrap your plan to save it. | You might believe that your creative approach will transcend ordinary requirements for success now. But when the heavy realization of your lack of resources sets in, you worry your faith was ill placed. However, your emotions are an intoxicating elixir that can trick you into thinking that only the cynical can win the game of life. Although you may have to pare down your efforts and find a more sustainable approach, there's no reason to let the challenges of today dampen the dreams of tomorrow. | You may want to rip off your rearview mirror and never look back, but your past could have a lot to teach you about where you're going. When a formidable Sun-Saturn square triggers your 4th House of Roots, you're required to address emotional patterns and childhood conditioning that lurk in your subconscious. Whether you integrate emotional discoveries or eliminate excess baggage, coming to an understanding with your personal history is a crucial step in living life more authentically. | Your inherent discipline makes it nearly impossible to accept anything less than procedural excellence. However, life is more than a static blueprint; three-dimensional living involves coloring outside the lines sometimes. Although time management is valuable, there's a lot to be said for going with the flow today. Instead of allowing panic to create fearful reactions that limit your choices, take a step back to explore your options. Jonathan Swift wrote, "Vision is the art of seeing what's invisible to others." | Your natural awareness of social justice makes it hard to justify your need to be your own individual island. You may feel guilty for believing you must nurture your own desires when there are world problems that require selfless service to solve. But the truth is that society is made up of a group of individuals, each doing his or her own part; variety is what makes the world go round. Following your heart contributes to the highest good for everyone. | An authority figure may stand in the way of your plans today, making you doubt your choices. You might feel as if you're under personal attack for just being your self when severe Saturn issues a harsh reprimand to the sensitive Pisces Sun. But what is really being called into question is whether or not your attitude is supporting your ambitions for success. It's too early to lose hope, even if you placed false faith in your ability to achieve your objectives. Stay focused on your lofty goals because this bump in the road will ultimately help you go further than you ever imagined. |
